

TECH TUESDAY

This week's key question is...

What information belongs to me online?

The objectives we are covering:

I know that work I create belongs to me.

I can explain why work I create using technology belongs to me.

I can say why it belongs to me e.g. I made it

The resources we will use:

We didn't use any additional resources this week to support the above discussion. However, we began the discussion talking about real life items that belong to us e.g. coat, bag, drinks bottle, snacks and how we need to ask permission before using other people's things. This then lead into discussions about how the things we make or create belong to us e.g. a model, a drawing, a photo etc.

Useful links for parents:

Center for Copyright Information | What Do Parents Need to Know?